Dear Jim:

It was very pleasant to hear from you, and I suppose I have been very lax in letting old associates know where I have ended up.

I am sorry I didn't know you were with War Crimes for a time in Washington, as at one time my old office had considerable work to do with the War Crimes people. By April, 1946, however, we were pretty well separated from that work.

 employment application has indeed been on my desk. The position for which we are considering applications is still somewhat tentative, and no action is expected for several months.  record is very good, but from the point of view of our office, we have at present one or two possibilities whose experience has been more in our type of work. As between equals, such experience would save us a considerable period of training. Under the circumstances, therefore, I can't be too optimistic in  case, but since things are, as I say, in a tentative state, his application is still under consideration.

I am glad to see you are out and on your own and doing well enough to be getting married. Congratulations and good luck. I hope to see you if I ever get up to New York again.

Sincerely yours,
